GOT A PRINCE'S EMERALDS. CUSTOMS OFFICER STRIPS HENRI DE

CROY OF BELGIUM.

Miss Madeleine Goddard's Father Denies the Report That She Is Engaged to the Prince -Her Mother Took Her to Europe by the Oceanic, Salling Last Wednesday.

Prince Henri de Croy of Belgium, whose unabridged title is Prince Henri-François-Ghislain-Louis-Marie de Croy and who is an offshoot of the family into which Quentin Durward married, arrived at Hoboken yesterday aboard the Holland-America steamship Potsdam, from Rotterdam and Boulogne, with three trunks and two vailees. He truthfully declared that there was nothing dutiable in the baggage. Inspector James Martin examined the trunks and valises and did the job so thoroughly that it seemed to worry the Prince. Inspector Andrew McCort, whose specialty is smugglers, stood around. After Martin was through with the baggage the Prince started to walk from the pier. According to his declaration, his destination was Washington, where he was once an attaché of the Austrian embassy. He was democratically dressed in a light eack suit and a light overcoat. He made an obvious effort to appear nonchalant, so McCort declares. There were rumors that McCort had got a "tip" from some of the officers and passengers of the Potsdam that the Prince had fewelry and other dutiable things. The contents of his trunks and valises had been strewn about the pier and every corner and crevice of his luggage had been examined without disclosing anything to hold him up for. Maybe that was another reason why McCort stepped up to the Prince, said "I would like to talk to you aboard the ship," and led the Prince to the room of the ship's surgeon, Dr.

Wheat. There the Prince was told that he would have to submit to a personal search. "Very well," said he, and he said no more. In the hip pocket of his trousers was a heavy gold bracelet set with five octagonal emeralds surrounded by diamonds. In a coat pocket was found an empty ring-case. Two Angora shawls were taken from the side pockets of his undercoat, and three silver snuffboxes, one inscribed "H. V. Z." with the date "1456" opposite, were hauled out of other pockets. The bottom and top of the antique snuffbox were concave to fit the thumb and forefinger.

There was no ring in sight to fit the ringcase and the prisoner was told that he would have to strip. "Very weil," he said, and stripped. In the waistband of his drawers the ring was found, McCort says. It was a man's ring, set with an emerald a quarter of an inch square nestling in a cluster of small dia-

The Prince put his clothes on with tranquillity, saying nothing to McCort, who said no more to him. Then he left the shawls, the bracelet, the ring, the snuffboxes, the ship and the pier; also a man servant who is in the steerage and will have to come into the country by way of Ellis Island. The Prince put his three trunks in storage with the New Jersey Express Company

He said he would return and redeem his seized effects, which were sent to the appraisers' stores.

Before leaving the ship the first time the Prince had handed a package to Purser Van Wyk, saying:

"Please take care of this for me until to-morrow night.'

An inspector will examine this package when the Prince calls for it. The Prince had drafts, checks and money represent ing $50,000.

It has been published that the Prince is engaged to Miss Madeleine Goddard of Providence, R I. If the object of his visit was to see her he will be disappointed, as she sailed with her mother for Europe on Wednesday aboard the White Star liner Oceanic.

His appearance here aboard the Potsdan was unexpected.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 28. - Col. R. H. I. Goddard, father of Miss Madeleine Goddard, whose reported engagement to Prince Henri de Croy has been referred to in the public prints, appeared to be very much amused when asked several weeks ago regarding the report. He said that while his daughter had met the Prince, the reported engagement was all news to him. Col. Goddard returned to-night from a Western trip.

"I first learned while coming on the train from New York to-day that the story was being revived," he said. "I can only repeat what I said when it was brought to my attention about a month ago. The report is entirely without foundation, and I am at a loss to account for its circu-

THE NEW COMET OBSERVED. It Is Close to the Sun and Can Be Seen Only Just

Before Sunrise ELHHORN, Wis , April 28 - A new comet which was observed yesterday morning at the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, is said by the astronomers to be the brightest that has appeared for nineteen years. Notice was received by telegraph from Harvard University that a comet had been discovered at Queenstown on April 23 and observed at the Cape of Good Hope on the morning of April 25 Its position at that time was about 16 degrees southwest of the sun. Its position yesterday morning was some 15 degrees north of the sun, indicating a very rapid northeasterly

HEAD ANARCH ARRESTED coused by a Former Member of His Group Who Now Flees for His Life.

PATERSON, April 28 .- The colony of Aparchists in this city is greatly excited over the arrest of their President, Bruno Mazzotta which occurred during the week at the instance of Salvatore Bianchi, who formerly belonged to the Right of Existence group of Anarchists. This was the group to which Bresci belonged and of which Mazzotta is at present leader or President. Mazzotta is also editor of It Movimento, an anarchistic organ. He is accused of assault and battery on Bianchi and of living unlawfully with Mrs. Ambrosina Bianchi. Since he made the charge Bianchi, it is said, has disappeared of the convention arrived here yesterday under fear of death. Bianchi was never an active member of the Anarchist group. His wife took more interest in the meetings than he did. When King Humbert was assassinated she proudly wore a Bresci medallion at her throat. When her husband ceased to attend the meetings Mazzotta became her escort. She is an attractive young woman of a vivacious disposition. Her husband grew morose and finally he forbade her going to the meetings.

Mrs. Bianchi asserted her independence She told her husband that marital laws and the obligations of a woman to a man she did not love ought not to be enforced. Next day she disappeared from her home, and her husband after a search found her living with Mazotta at 225 Slater street. Mazzotta kicked Bianchi down stairs when he tried to take his wife away. Bianchi went before Justice Sherry and made the charges against Mazzotta. Two days later Bianchi received a note warning him that his death would follow the betraval of any Anarchist Alarmed at this threat Bianchi disappeared last Thursday and his friends say he has gone to Italy. Mazzotta does not deny the charge of living with Mrs. Bianchi and he now talks as if he would set up the free love doctrine of the Anarchists as his defence in court. Many Anarchists do not believe in marriage and the interchange of wives is said not to be uncommon among them in this city

Another charge in the case was made yesterday before Justice Keys by the mother of Bianchi against the younger Mrs. Bianchi for assault and battery. It is said that on Friday Mrs. Bianchi, Jr., went to her motherin-law's home at 118 Madison street with a revolver and threatened to shoot every one in the family if the charges against herself and Mazzotta were not withdrawn. The young woman says that her mother-in-law was the cause of all her troubles.

BELLEVUE ROUTS SERENADERS.

Battle With Noisy Midnight Visitors to the Women Nurses' Training School.

East Twenty-sixth street from First avenue to the river was enlivened at an early hour yesterday morning by a pitched battle between Bellevue Hospital employees and four young men who, having been drinking, were attempting boisterous pranks at the training school for female nurses. The hospital at-school for female nurses. The hospital attendants won.

The four young men left cabs at Second avenue and Twenty-sixth street just after 1 o'clock and noisily and unsteadily marched down to the nurses' training school, where they took a stand under the dormitory windows and began to serenade the young women who were asleep overhead. The discord aroused everyhody within earshot and when the nurses discovered whence it came they drenched the young men with all the water they could reach. #### BREWER HUPFEL'S HORSES KILLED. His $3,0001 Team Struck by a Train Saturday Night at Brinckerhoff.

FISHKILL LANDING, N. Y., April 28 .- The he team of horses of Anton G. Hupfel, the millionaire New York brewer, were struck by a fast express train on the Newburgh Dutchess and Connecticut Railroad at Brinck erhoff last night and instantly killed. As is Mr. (Hupfel's custom, he left New York at about 4 o'clock. At Dutchess Junction he changed cars from the New York Central Railroad to the Newburgh, Dutchess and Connecticut Railroad. His coachman had the fine $3,00 team of horses hooked to a handsome coach. When approaching the Brinckerhoff station, where Mr. Hupfel intended to leave the train to go to his summer residence at Johnsville, the team ran away and were struck by the train.

The driver had lost control of the horses and was thrown out before the animals dashed into the train. The horses were frightfully mangled. The coach was smashed into smithereens. The driver only imped when he saw the horses were certain to dash into the train. The driver says the animals took fright at the train and made a terrific burst of speed, running into it at almost right angles. The entire loss to the brease is Mr. [Hupfel's custom, he left New York

LIFE SAVER REWARDED.

Cortland Barber's Bequest of $2,500 Fro a Woman He Rescued in 1887.

CORTLAND, N. Y , April 28 - John J Krebbs a barber of this village, has been notified that Mrs. Mary Tabor of Louisville, Ky, is dead and that under her will he will receive $2,500. One Sunday afternoon in August, 1887, Mr Krebbs, who then lived in Louisville, went with some friends to one of the small islands in the Ohio River, just above the falls. While strelling about Krobbs heard a scream. He ran to where he could look out on the river and saw a woman in a small boat drifting rapidly toward the falls. Below the falls was a whirlpool. If Mrs. Tabor had gone over the falls she would have been drowned. Her friends and the crowd which had collected seemed paralyzed with fear and made no attempt to assist her. Krebbs ran to a cottage, cut down a clothes-line, hurried to the edge of the river, coiling the rope as he ran, and threw one end of the rope over the woman's head. She caught the rope and was drawn ashere. When she stepped ashere she thanked Mr. Krebbs and asked his name and address, and after receiving them welked away. He heard nothing more of the affair until notified of the bequest. the Ohio River, just above the falls.

ELECTRIC POWER SENT 140 MILES.

Street Cars in Oakland, Cal., Operated by Power Generated on Yuba River.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.-Electric power generated on Yuba River, 140 miles away, was used in the operation of street cars in Oakland to-day. This is said to be the longest transmission of electric power in the mitted the entire distance with a loss not to exceed 5 per cent. I nder that showing experts said the voltage could be increased until there would be practically no loss of current. The current used was the alternating current, transmitted through a motor at the power station, as a voltage of 40,000 was greatly in excess of the power needed. On Monday power will be transmitted over the company's lines to San José, a distance of 190 miles from the generating plant.

CUBAN DELEGATES IN TOWN

SENOR CAPOTE MODIFIES THE INTER-VIEW HE GAVE IN WASHINGTON.

The Visit to the Capital Was Most Satisfactory. but He Did Not Wish to Be Understood as Saying That All Objection to the Platt Amendment Had Been Removed by It.

The Cuban delegates from the Constituional Convention who have been having conferences in Washington on the Platt amend ment and other matters affecting the attitude of this Government toward the work morning and put up at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. They will sail for Cuba on Wednesday on the steamship Havana.

The delegates were much disappointed in not finding here to welcome them Gen T. Estrada Palma, who was at the head of the Cuban junta here during the war. One of their reasons for coming to New York is to meet Gen. Palma and have a conference with him and they telegraphed him from Washington before leaving, asking him to meet them on their arrival vesterday Gen. Palma who lives at Central Valley N. Y., did not turn up, but last night he telegraphed that he would arrange to be at the hotel to day.

In the afternoon the delegates were invited to take a trip about the city by R. A. C. Smith, who has been a friend for many years of Senor Capote, the President of the convention. Mr. Smith took some of the Cubans in his own automobile and the others went in hired ones. Altogether they filled four carriages and greatly entoyed the trip, which consumed the entire afternoon. They stopped for a while at the Convent of the Sacred Heart at Manhattanville, where there are some Cuban children, relatives of the delegates in the evening the party were the guests of Mr. Smith at a dinner at Sherry's.

Senor Capote was the spokesman of the party and he was very guarded in the little he did say when approached on the subject of the probable outcome of their visit to Washington. He gave the impression, however, that while the visit was satisfactory, it was going a little too far to say that all opposition had been removed by it. Senor Capote said that he had been misunderstood in an interview given by him in Washington

"I was quoted," said he, "as saying that in view of the explanations made to us at Washington all foundation for opposition to the Platt amendment had been removed. I see that that has already given the impression that we had already come to the conclusion o accept the amendment. I did not mean o say anything that would lead to such an impression. The information we received in Washington at the hands of Secretary Root and others with whom we talked, including the President, is very valuable and very important. It will be that to the convention, and we are simply taking it to them.

"I cannot say what will be done with it, and I don't care to venture even a personal opinion. Only the idea should not go abroad that we have decided to accept the matters that are explained to us. We shall not make any recommendations to the convention, I think, but simply explain matters that we needed enlightenment on as they were exus. Then the convention will decide what to do.

"The convention will be called together again just as soon as we reach Cuba. How soon it will complete its labors I cannot undertake to say any more than I can say what the result will be. Our visit was satisfactory and in that we have not been misquoted. We have not been disappointed at anything, but are satisfied with the way we have been enlightened. We shall hold no meetings before

"Secretary Root is a very able, a very brilliant man. As to how his suggestions No one could be found who prefessed to struck us I cannot say. Anything I should say would have to be purely personal and would have no value, and hence I do not care to say anything. We shall give a faithful account of our visit to the convention. Our treatment has been most gratifying to us."

HOGG WORTH $3.000,000? Ex-Governor Has Struck Iron and Coal as Well as Oil, and Owns That He Is Rich.

DALLAS, Tex. April 28 - Former Governo James S. Hogg for several days this been credited with having made approximately $3,000,000 in oil and kindred interests at and near Benumont. These reports were not accepted at their face value until to-day, when a letter from Gov Hogg to a personal friend. the Hon. W. A. Shaw, a member of the Legis lature from Dallas, settled it.

In addition to having procured po-

In addition to having procured possession of 500 acres of the richest oil lands at Beaumont and also of having made by various transactions several hundred thousand dollars in ready money. Gov Hogg has acquired 15.00, acres of iron ore hand surrounding New Birmingham, and comprising the pick of the great iron belt of Cherokee county. With the land he has got control of the big foundry furnaces, buildings and everything connected with the industry that makes it ready for immediate operation.

New Birmingham has one of the richest beds of iron ore in the United States. It is its miles north of Beaumont. Gov. Hogg declares in his letter that the operations of himself and his associates place Texas beyond the control of the oil or iron trusts. Hogg heads the big syndicate that control if the holdings enumerated, and adds in his lotter:

"The understanding is that my proposed company will run pipe lines via New Birmingham to Dallas and north Texas."

The Hogg syndicate lands about New Birmingham also include some of the finest timber tracts in the State. It is figured that oil will be delivered at New Birmingham at a cost of 10 cents a barrel. Three barrels of oil equal one ton of coal. This is the place where the Hogg syndicate expects to put the pinching process in operation against the iron, tipe and sheet-iron trusts.

Gov. Hogg has had an offer of $3,000,000 for his oil and iron holdings, but has declared his intention of retaining and utilizing them.

CUDAHY JURY DENOUNCED.

JUDGE SCORES THEM FOR ACQUITTING THE ALLEGED KIDNAPPER.

Says They Ignored the Evidence and Took Sides With Callahan Because of the Wealth of the Kidnapped Boy's Father-Premium Placed on Child Stealing, the Court Says.

OMAHA, Neb., April 28. - An interesting chapter in the Cudahy kidnapping case was closed to-day when the jury returned a verdict acquitting James Callahan, the alleged companion of Pat Crowe. The verdict was unexpected, and the Court was so shocked that a dramatic scene occurred.

Judge Barker denounced the jury, declaring that justice had been perverted and that because Edward Cudahy is a man of wealth the twelve men would permit his boy to be stolen and refuse to punish the guity person. He also declared that all the evidence indicated the man's guilt, and that the jury had deliberately placed a premium upon this evil of stealing chil-

The twelve men at first seemed abashed by the outbreak of the Judge and hung their heads. Then they recovered and assumed a defiant attitude. The jury took only two ballots.

When the verdict was announced to Callahan he smiled and walked from the court room in an indifferent manner. He asserted that at no stage of the proceedings did he expect to be convicted.

The case lasted one week. It was hardly expected that much evidence would be produced connecting Callahan with Pat Crowe and with the kidnapping, but it was brought home to him on circumstantial evidence. It was shown that he and Crowe were together right up to the moment of the kidnapping, that he introduced Crowe under an assumed name, that he and Crowe purchased the horse which figured in the kidnapping, and to clinch the case Eddie Cudahy positively identified Callahan as his failer.

The State Attorney says he cannot understand the verdict except that it was from a spirit of resemment against a rich man. The only defence made was an alibi and that was very weak.

It's only in Brooklyn that I'm appreciated. But what's the use of lugging that in about our wives? Don't ou think that's a little extravagant? Mrs. Clemens was too tired to come, and I'm glad she was. I don't want her to hear things like that. Why don't you people, so far as our calling will allow, try to tell the truth? Arthur Frazier colored laborer of Washington, D. C. was taken out dead about midnight, and this morning the dead bodies of Douglas Hicks, colored, and Michael Coyne, foreman, of Fayette county, Pa., were taken out at 5 o'clock. Michael Kearns, another foreman, is known to be under the debris, with perhaps several others. However, this is uncertain It was late on Saturday when the accident ecurred and many of the men who have not been accounted for may have wandered away, as there are over 1,000 employed in the neighborhood on improvements Coroner Thomas Waltz summoned a jury of inquest, who after hearing the testimony exonerated the contractors, H. C. Clements & Co. of Philadelphia, from all blame. The workmen had been advised of their danger and had been requested to come out of the tunnel, as a blast had been set off in the shaft and the earth was crumbling. They withdrew hurriedly, but as much earth had not fallen in thirty or forty minutes, some of them were seen to return to their work.

At 5 o'clock, one hour from the time the plast was set off, there was a terrifle rumbling nd a crush. The dynamite had loosened the earth to such an extent that when the props below gave away a hole fifty feet in diameter was made, entombing the w orkmen

With Her-Improved Last Night and Bailed, WICHITA, Kan., April 28 .- Mrs. Carrie Nation, the saloon wrecker, has broken down and is believed to be insane. The crisis in her condition followed a term of solitary confinement and the receipt of the news of her brother's death. It is thought by physicians who have examined her that she will soon recover, but others believe that her condition is hopeless. On Thursday Mrs. Nation had a fight with her friend, Mrs. Wilhoit, who was confined in the same cell. Mrs. Nation slapped Mrs. Wilhoit and pulled her nose. Sheriff Simmons was forced to place Mrs. Nation in solitary confinement in the rotary cell. She was also put on the bread and water diet. On Saturday morning news came here that her brother was dying at Lewisburg and she was advised to accept bail at once and go to him. James Ray, her attorney. and Wilburt Jones, her former bondsman and best friend, visited the jail and asked to see her. They explained the reasons she should accept bond. Mrs Nation stared at them, then burst into a hysteric tirade against them and said if she wanted to get out she could fly. This alarmed her friends, who summoned her physician.

He stated that she was insane. David Nation, her husband, was notified Her con ition improved during the day. and the physician expressed the belief that with quiet she would recover. She would not see any one during the day, but spent her time talking to herself about how she was running the world from her place in jail. always greeted them cordially. Mrs. Nation was much better late tonight and accepted bail. It was announced that she would be released in the custody
